Thought of the Week
“Experience is not what happens to a man. It is what a man does with what happens to him.”
– Aldous Huxley

Virtue of the Week
This week, we examine the virtue of patience. Patience is quiet hope and trust, expecting things to turn out just right. Patience is also being calm and tolerant when difficult things happen. It means showing acceptance when you or others make mistakes. Patience is also doing something now so that later it will reap rewards. Patience is an investment into the future. Please consider discussing patience with your child/ren this week.

Principal’s Message
Our second week of learning has just passed and all classes are settled well into their routines with rigorous learning occurring in all spaces. This week, during my daily visits, I have focused on the teaching of handwriting and student book work, which is of a high standard. All classes have exemplars prominently displayed, so learners know what their ‘best’ handwriting looks like as well as having a clear target to aim for. Handwriting occurs every day in every classroom and follows our school’s Handwriting Program with an explicit instruction teaching sequence used to model concepts and skills, set expectations and provide time for the individual mastery of skills. Handwriting also has its own set of unique terms, which is built on from year to year. If you would like a copy of the Queensland Beginner’s or Cursive Scripts, please ask your child/ren’s teachers.

In just under two weeks time, we welcome our Assistant Regional Director Mr David Roach to Parkhurst who will be visiting classrooms and discussing our school’s progress towards its goals. Mr Roach has very recent experience as a primary school Principal and I look forward to working with David to make Parkhurst State School go from strength to strength.

Last Thursday and Friday Mrs Alana Fitchen, Mrs Moira Mackenzie and I attended the Quality Schools Inclusive Leaders Conference in Gladstone. This event focused on legislation around the Disability Act and provided a range of information to support schools to deliver an inclusive environment for all learners.

Until next time,
Lyle Walker

Jeans for Genes Day
Every year, our Student Council select a local, State, National and International Charity to support through a fundraiser. Next Friday, August 01st 2014 is Jeans for Genes Day, a National annual fundraising event that supports research into childhood diseases. The cost to wear your jeans next Friday is $2.00. Our regular school shirts, shoes and hats are still expected to be worn on the day.

Demand Writing
Our focus on developing greater writers across the school continues this Term, this time with a focus on text types other than the Persuasive and Narrative genre. This week, all classes were presented with a News Report to compose from a stimulus picture and the results have been excellent.

Weekly Attendance Statistics
Attendance continues to be our priority. Our aim for Term One is to reach 96% and have classes of ‘Every Day Counts’ Champions. Our current school wide daily attendance rate is 93.7%. The attendance rate of each class is listed below, with huge improvements noted, well done everyone!

Everyone Welcome!

Aluminium Can Collection
Empty aluminium cans may be left in the wired collection point at the front of the school for recycling. Every can means money for Parkhurst.

Parkhurst Tavern Raffles
The P&C’s Parkhurst Tavern Raffles are now once a fortnight and everyone is welcome to become involved with this profitable fundraiser.

There is virtually nothing to do except turn up, sell tickets and conduct the draws. Volunteers are still sought every fortnight to assist with the sale of tickets for some amazing prizes. If you are able to assist, please consider contacting a P&C Member to be added to the Raffle Roster. If every family assisted for just one night, the roster would be covered. All profits generated has and will continue to support YOUR students and their education.

Discipline Audit
Last Term, following the school’s Teaching and Learning and Discipline Audit, we received a number of commendations, affirmations and recommendations that will assist our school to strategically plan for the next four years. This week, the commendations and affirmations are outlined from the Discipline Audit Report.

Commendations
- The school has a small number of positively stated school wide expectations and appropriate behaviours that are clearly defined and established within the classrooms and playground. The five values of Respect, Responsibility, Rigour, Resilience and Relationships, are highly visible, continually communicated and are evident in the behaviour of most students.
- The Leadership Team is implementing the Responsible Behaviour Plan for Students (RBPS) by ensuring that disruptive behaviour is dealt with promptly and in a respectful manner.
- Teaching staff use a wide variety of strategies to reward and acknowledge students for following the school values and displaying appropriate behaviours.

- Students are well aware of expectations and consequences of inappropriate behaviour.

Affirmations
- Assemblies are used to celebrate students’ achievement, effort and learning, as well as reinforcing the school value to be discussed and followed up in classes during the week.
- The school environment reflects a sense of belonging and pride that is evident across all areas of the learning community.
- There is a school philosophy built around high expectations and student academic success.
- The school is well supported by parents assisting in classrooms, an active Parents and Citizens’ Association (P&C), volunteers and the local university.
- Overall student behaviour is of a very high standard and adopted strategies are working successfully. The Chaplain and Guidance Officer provide assistance and programs in the areas of self-esteem, friendships and help for parents.
- Student leadership is valued within the school with students taking active roles in assemblies, community celebrations, student council and school sports activities.
- There is evidence that OneSchool behaviour data has been utilised when reviewing school procedures.

Problem Solving Strategy of the Week
Each week, all classes will be exploring a problem solving strategy of the week. Problem Solving supports numeracy and literacy development by assisting learners to interpret questions, think beyond what is written and consider alternative ways to answer a question. This week, we continue with Look for a Pattern. A copy of the poster, which explains the strategy is outlined below as well as some problems for you to solve with your child/ren.
Your Try!
Laura looks for her favourite shells on the beach every morning. The first day, she finds three shells. The next day, she finds eight shells. On the third day, she finds thirteen shells in the cove. On the fourth day, she finds eighteen shells as she walks by the water. If Laura keeps finding shells in this way, how many will she find on the eighth day?

It’s time for the school’s big annual Parade. The Year Fours have decided to march in a special formation this year. One person walks in the first row, two people walk in the second row and three people walk in the third row. This pattern continues on and on.
- If the whole fourth grade marches in ten full rows, how many students are in Year Four?
- Use numbers, words, tables and/or pictures to explain how you know your answer is correct.

2015 Enrolments
A special letter was sent home to all families this week regarding 2015 Student Enrolments. As you would be aware from recent communications, Parkhurst State School and other North Rockhampton State Schools will very soon be enrolment managed. This means that from a future date yet to be determined, only students who reside in the school’s designated catchment area will be able to enrol at Parkhurst State School.

If you or families you know are or considering to enrol child/ren at Parkhurst State School in 2015, please visit the Office or contact the school as soon as possible to obtain a 2015 Enrolment Package. If you already have a child/ren enrolled with us and live out of catchment, there is still provision within the Enrolment Management Plan (EMP) for siblings to enrol with us.

With all Year Sevens officially moving to Secondary School from the beginning of next year, you would appreciate there is much work to be undertaken in preparing for this significant educational change. By ensuring we have an accurate school student enrolment, it will assist us in the development of a class structure, secure and assign staffing and ensure we have the resources in place for the beginning of the 2015 school year.

2015 Enrolment packages, consisting of a range of forms and information are now available from the Office or our website for those families wishing to download, print, scan and email back to us. The future of Parkhurst State School is a bright and optimistic one with ongoing growth predicted. Your assistance and support to ensure we are well prepared for 2015 is appreciated.

Students, Have your Say!
Prep to Year Twelve students are invited to have their say on the future of education in Queensland. We want to hear your suggestions on how we can ensure all students are given the best education and outcomes. Your feedback will contribute to the development of the Queensland Education Accord, a thirty year vision for education in Queensland.

All you need to do is submit video feedback on one of the seven Queensland Education Accord student questions. If your video is chosen it will feature at the Queensland Education Accord Summit in September and you will be in the draw to win one of four $50 iTunes vouchers. Entries close Friday August 08th 2014. For more information and to view the Queensland Education Accord questions, visit, http://deta.qld.gov.au/about/educationaccord/student-engagement.html

Regional Shield and District Athletics
Well done to all our students who represented the school at last week’s Regional Shield Carnival for Netball and Ruby League and the District Athletics Carnival at Rockhampton State High School. Much feedback has been received regarding the exemplary behaviour and sportsmanship of all who attended.

This is testament to the school’s excellent reputation in the community. Well done to everyone who participated and a special thank you to Mr Matthew Wilson, Mrs Catherine Lancaster, Mrs Averil Gooding, Mrs Michelle Gadsby, Mrs Stephensen and Mrs Rosie Horstman who also contributed to both events.

Supporting Handwriting
Before you read this article, quickly consider your answer to this question, “What is your favourite colour?”

This may have seemed like an automatic and mindless task, but your body and mind had to work closely together to complete a series of steps in the right order. You had to pick up a pen or pencil, hold it steady, remember what colour you wanted to use as an answer, think about what letters appear in the word and in what order, move your wrist and hand in the right way to shape the letters, follow what you wrote with your eyes, and apply the proper amount of pressure to the paper.

Learning to Write
Even though we do it every day, writing is one of the most complex tasks that humans engage in, involving both motor and critical thinking skills. It’s not surprising that learning to write is a process that takes years to complete. It also happens in order, with each skill building on the last. As with reading, children are aware of writing from infancy, especially when they’re exposed to it regularly. By being read to and seeing you write, your child begins to understand at a very young age that written words have meaning.

It’s only a matter of time before children start trying to create words on their own. All children start writing by scribbling, an activity most toddlers enjoy. To do it, they must use coordination to hold the crayon, keep the paper still, and apply enough pressure to make a mark on the paper. As time goes on, with lots of practice, they’ll start to realise that not only can they make marks to create a pattern, but by repeating the same movements, they can make the pattern again.

Practising Writing
At around three or four years old, children may start to practise writing, and included among the scribbles may be recognisable letters. You may notice your child writes all of the letters of his or her name in a seemingly random way on different parts of the piece of paper. That’s because children learn to write individual letters before they learn how to put them together to form a word.

As they continue to read and develop an understanding of how words work, children start to understand how to group letters into words. Between Kindergarten and Prep, most learn to put letters together into words and will use these words to label pictures that they draw. Children this age usually use only capital letters and will not include spaces between words. They will also use ‘invented spelling’, writing words with no vowels (eg; ‘BBYDLL’ for ‘baby doll!’).

Eventually, with practice and formal learning, children learn what are called the conventions of print, writing from left to right, the difference between uppercase and lowercase letters, how to put spaces between words, and how to use correct spelling in most instances.

As children get older and develop more motor control, their handwriting becomes smaller and neater. Between Year Two and Year Three, children begin to learn to write in cursive and will apply the conventions of handwriting automatically.

Late Arrivals and Collections
Over the past week, there have been increased incidences of students arriving well after lessons have commenced as well as being picked up excessively late, in some cases up to an hour after school has finished. Please be conscious that staff availability to supervise students after 3:00 p.m. may be limited.
